Metastorm Partner iOctane Signs License Agreement with the New Zealand Department of Internal Affairs

BALTIMORE, MD and SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA – July 20, 2010 – Metastorm, a leading provider of Business Process Management (BPM), Business Process Analysis (BPA), and Enterprise Architecture (EA) software for aligning strategy with execution, today announced that its partner, iOctane, and the New Zealand Department of Internal Affairs have signed a license agreement for the distribution of the Metastorm suite of products and services.

“Metastorm is a leading business architecture and process optimization platform,” stated Robin Martin, executive vice president of international operations for Metastorm. “Through ongoing product innovation and a focus on customer success Metastorm has established itself as a market leader and we are fortunate to have a strong network of partners such as iOctane to deliver the Metastorm suite of products and services around the world.”

The Metastorm suite of products is designed to link together to create an environment for continuous process improvement across organizations. The license agreement will enable government departments to purchase Metastorm products and services through iOctane at a discount.

“We are delighted to be able to sign this agreement with the New Zealand Department of Internal Affairs. It will allow government agencies to access the Metastorm process modeling, business architecture and process execution technology tools,” said Chris Symes, head of client engagement for iOctane.

“I am pleased to be able to facilitate multi-agency access to iOctane and Metastorm products and services for New Zealand government agencies. Business process tools like this help to catalyse efficient and effective information technology architecture practices,” said Brian More, chief architect for Government Technology Services at the New Zealand Department of Internal Affairs.
